

Restaurants, bars gain business
under smoke ban

Boston Globe
April 4, 2005

Revenues up from smoke-free bars, restaurants

The Associated Press
September 1, 2005

Cig Ban No Bar Burden

New York Post
July 25, 2006

Smoke-Free Air Is Good for Health and Business

Going smoke-free is a win-win situation for Pennsylvania's hospitality industry. The Surgeon General's report confirms smoke-free laws protect health without harming business: "Studies show smoke-free policies and regulations do not have an adverse economic impact on the hospitality industry." And smokeless environments are the only approach that effectively protects nonsmokers from secondhand smoke, which causes lung cancer, heart disease, and other serious illnesses. Let's protect the health of Pennsylvania's workers and public by insisting on the smoke-free air law that covers all workplaces.

EVERYONE DESERVES THE RIGHT TO BREATHE CLEAN AIR.

CAMPAIGN for
TOBACCO-FREE
Kids®