

October 1, 2007

The Honorable X

Dear Senator X:

Congress has an historic opportunity to embrace responsible legislation that will help to reduce the suffering and death caused by tobacco. Bipartisan legislation has been introduced by Senator Edward M. Kennedy (D MA) and Senator John Cornyn (R-TX), S. 625, in the U.S. Senate and by Representatives Henry Waxman (D-CA) and Tom Davis (R-VA), H.R. 1108, in the U.S. House of Representatives, to give the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) the authority to regulate the tobacco industry for the first time, ending the exceptional protection granted only to tobacco companies and to no other industry.

In 2004, the U.S. Senate voted overwhelmingly, 78-15, to grant the FDA effective authority to regulate tobacco products, but the legislation ultimately died in a conference committee. Forty-three years have passed since the U.S. Surgeon General reported on the unquestionable dangers of smoking. Since that time, tobacco products have become the largest single preventable cause of death in America while Congress has yet to take meaningful action.

Tobacco use kills more than 400,000 Americans each year and costs our nation more than $96 billion in health care bills. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, tobacco use by pregnant women alone costs between $400 500 million per year due to complications such as low birth weight, premature births and Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS). And every day Congress fails to act, another 1,000 kids become regular smokers, one-third of whom will die prematurely as a result. Yet tobacco products are virtually unregulated to protect consumers' health and safety. For decades, the tobacco companies have marketed their deadly products to our children, deceived consumers about the harm their products cause, and failed to take any meaningful action to make their products less harmful or less addictive. The Kennedy-Cornyn and Waxman-Davis bills would finally end the exceptional protection enjoyed by the tobacco industry and protect our children and the nation's health instead.

This legislation meets the standards long established by the public health community for a strong FDA tobacco regulation bill that protects the public health. It would give the FDA the necessary tools and resources to effectively regulate the manufacturing, marketing, labeling, distribution and sale of tobacco products. The FDA would have the authority to:

- Stop illegal sales of tobacco products to children and adolescents.
- Require changes in tobacco products, such as the reduction or elimination of harmful chemicals, to make them less harmful and less addictive.
- Restrict advertising and promotions that appeal to children and adolescents.
- Prohibit unsubstantiated health claims about so-called "reduced risk" tobacco products that discourage current tobacco users from quitting or encourage new users to start.
- Require the disclosure of tobacco product content and tobacco industry research about the health effects of their products.
- Require larger and more informative health warnings on tobacco products.

This much-needed bipartisan FDA legislation protects the public's health and should be enacted in this session of Congress. We remain concerned that opponents of effective FDA tobacco regulation will seek to weaken the bills. Our organizations will work vigorously to protect the bills as they currently exist and will oppose efforts to eliminate or weaken the FDA authority they provide. Please support the Kennedy Cornyn, S 625, and Waxman-Davis, HR 1108, FDA bills and oppose any and all weakening changes.

Below is the list of 528 national, state and local organizations that have endorsed this legislation and are actively working to see it enacted into law.

Sincerely,
